

Investment Research Challenge Germany

The Challenge is an educational initiative in which leading industry professionals teach and test business and finance students in research and report on a publicly traded company. German CFA Society will conduct the Investment Research Challenge Germany for the first time in 2010/2011.

Rules and Timeline

The Challenge starts in October 2010 and ends in a presentation in early 2011. It consists of the following components:

- Analysis of a Public Company: Teams research the same public company, selected by German CFA Society, including a question and answer session with company management.
- Mentoring By a Professional Research Analyst: Each team is mentored by a professional research analyst, who reviews and critiques the team's report.
- Presentation of Research to a high-profile panel of CFA charterholders and executives from the financial industry experts. The winning team will be selected based on the combined scores for the written report and the presentation.
- If there are more than three teams competing in Germany the winner will take part in the CFA Institute Global Challenge for the EMEA-region in Madrid and in case of success in the Global Challenge in Oklahoma, USA.

Participants

These universities have expressed their commitment to take part:

- Mannheim University
- European Business School
- Goethe Business School
- Hamburg University

Only one team of 3-5 students per university is admitted to take part. Participants should have completed their bachelor already or complete it in early 2011 latest.
